SalesPage™

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

The Software Developer is responsible for developing, testing, and supporting value added software solutions for clients. A Software Developer will be technically proficient in various software development tools and be able to analyze, design, and implement solutions to complex requirements.

Job Requirements

Technical Expertise

1. Develop software in a collaborative, team oriented development environment using tools such as Eclipse, database management applications, and Subversion.
2. Understands different programming languages, with a strong emphasis on Java, JavaScript and object oriented design.
3. Solve software behavior issues in both new and existing software code.
4. Practice software development according to prescribed of the software development processes.
5. Understand web application principles and design.
6. Analyze and implement client requirements using corporate adopted technologies.
7. Practice sound database development techniques, including SQL and the creation and maintenance of objects such as stored procedures, views, and functions.
8. Identify database issues and optimize database performance.

Communication Skills

1. Able to communicate effectively and clearly with various project stakeholders including team members, project managers, and clients.
2. Assist in the analysis, estimation, and documentation of technical requirements.
3. Organize multiple projects and tasks simultaneously.
4. Possess time management skills to complete multiple assigned tasks.

Job Responsibilities

Technical

1. Deliver complete product solutions, including development and testing in a timely manner.
2. Assist in the design and documentation of technical specifications.
3. Assist in the estimate of software modifications.
4. Maintain and troubleshoot existing functionality.

Communication

1. Assist in creating clear and concise technical specifications for client business requirements.
2. Communicate project concerns and issues.
3. Contribute to the ongoing development of best practices and procedures through lessons learned.

About SalesPage Technologies, LLC

Company Size: 10-50 Employees
Industry: Internet & Software, Private Company
Headquarters: 2725 Airview Blvd, Portage, MI 49002
Website: www.salespage.com

SalesPage Technologies provides data management, sales reporting and turnkey CRM solutions to the financial services industry. SalesPage collaborates with each client to deliver solutions expertly tailored to their unique requirements. Every solution starts with the appropriate SalesPage foundation, then integrates the client's own best strategies, leveraging their existing technology investments and readily adapting as the client's needs change and grow. The growing list of SalesPage clients includes Allianz Global Investors, BlackRock, Eaton Vance Management, Federated Investors, NEI Investments, Nuveen Investments, and Virtus Investment Partners. For over 30 years, SalesPage has been working with firms like these to solve business challenges with industry leading software solutions. We're looking for intelligent and passionate individuals to join our team and help continue our advancement towards being the most respected and in-demand distribution management partner in the industry.